

INSTRUCTIONS TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

Mr. Christensen Issues Directions for Pupils Taking Part in Exercises.

HOW TO REACH PLACES

LITTLE ONES TOLD WHERE TO GO TO HONOR PRESIDENT.

Many of the Sunday schools of Salt Lake City and county will be closed this morning to give the children the opportunity of taking part in the children's exercises along Brigham street at 9 o'clock. Children will form in solid lines from State street to Q street, along South Temple, for the review of President William H. Taft.

The school boards of Salt Lake county will be included in the reviewing party this morning and the members will meet in South Temple street, near Main, at 8:45, so that their carriages will follow the president's official parade. The living flag will remain on A street for a half-hour after the review.

Superintendent D. H. Christensen yesterday completed the collection of reports from the principals of the different public schools regarding the assembling of the pupils at the schools on Sunday morning and other details of interest to the pupils and their parents. These instructions were given to the pupils Thursday and Friday, by each teacher, but parents will be interested in the details.

The completed instructions follow:

Final Instructions.

Bonneville pupils will transfer to East First South car and go to Fourth East, where they will be met by teachers at 8 a. m. From that point they will march north on Fourth East to Brigham to position.

Bryant pupils will meet at the Bryant school at 8:30 o'clock and march from there to position on Brigham street.

Emerson—Part of the Emerson pupils will go directly by special cars chartered by the school to a point on First South which has been designated by the principal. Other pupils from this district will assemble at the city and county building grounds, where they will be met by their teachers. They will march from this point to Brigham street.

Fremont pupils will meet at the Fremont school at 8:30 o'clock and march from there to position on South Temple.

Grant school pupils will assemble at 8:15 a. m. on Second East just east of the city and county building. From this point they will march to Brigham street.

Hamilton pupils will assemble at school building, leaving the building at 8:30 a. m. They will be halted at Seventh East and Brigham to have the lines readjusted and to admit any pupils who were not at the school building.

Jackson—The smaller children will meet at the school building at 8 a. m., the larger children at the corner of Fifth West and North Temple at 8:30 a. m. Children who go on car will be met at 8:30 a. m. by the principal at Fourth East and Brigham.

Lafayette pupils will meet at the school building at 8:30 sharp. They will leave the building at 8:45 sharp and march to position on South Temple.

Lincoln pupils will assemble on the east side of the city and county building at 8:15 a. m. and march from this point to position on South Temple.

The Franklin pupils will meet at the Franklin school at 8 a. m. and march to position on South Temple.

Longfellow pupils will assemble at the Longfellow building at 8:30 o'clock.

Teachers in Charge.

Lowell pupils will meet at the Lowell building at 8:30 a. m., leave the building at 8 a. m. and march to position on South Temple.

Pupils of the Oregana and Jordan schools will assemble at the corner of Fourth East and First South streets at 8 a. m. All pupils going by car will be met by teachers at that point. Pupils walking will meet the principal at the Oregana school at 8 a. m.

Quincy pupils will assemble at the Bryant school, 123 East First South, at 8:30 a. m.

Popular Grove pupils will meet on the northeast corner of Second South and Fourth East and march to position on South Temple.

Riverside school pupils will assemble at the corner of Third South and West Temple, and march to position on South Temple.

Summer school pupils will meet at the corner of F street and First avenue. From this point they will march at 9:30 to the place reserved for them between F and G streets on Brigham. After the review the pupils will be marched to the place of assembly, corner of F street and First avenue, where parents are expected to receive their children.

Vasatch pupils will assemble at the school buildings in their respective rooms at 8:45 a. m. and march from the building at 9 a. m.

Washington pupils will meet at the school building at 8:15, leave the building at 8:30 a. m. and march to position on South Temple. After review parents may meet children at corner of F street and First avenue.

Waterloo pupils will assemble at the city and county building grounds at 8:15 a. m. and march from there to position on Brigham street.

Webster school pupils will meet in the Webster school, in their respective rooms, at 8 a. m. sharp, and march from the school to the place assigned to them on Brigham street.

opportunity of shaking hands with the President after he had won their personal admiration and friendship by his address.

After two hours at the hotel, spent in his apartments quietly, the President reappeared, and greeted the Yale alumni and the Utah Ohio society at the University club. This reception lasted for more than an hour and then a dinner at the Alta club closed the day.

WON'T CONCEDE THAT HE'S DEAD

Joe Lippman Making Bets and Scattering Coins Here and There.

"Joe Lippman has gone crazy." This and kindred remarks were common on the street yesterday when it became known that the candidate for mayoral nomination on the American party ticket had been making all kinds of bets with men in other factions of the party to the effect that John S. Bransford would not receive the nomination for mayor next Tuesday.

Lippman bet A. J. Davis a hat that Bransford would retire before the city convention, he bet a $50 suit of clothes with City Engineer L. C. Kelsey that the mayor would not get the nomination on the first ballot, and bet Dave Dunbar that Bransford would not receive 250 votes on the first ballot.

Lippman has generally been conceded, even by Lippman supporters, that Bransford has the fight won and will receive at least 275 votes on the first ballot at the city convention. And the bets that are being said about the money that was sprinkled around to buy Lippman delegates are not to be put in print. The fight is still going on by Lippman followers, with but little heart.

Did Not Play Golf.

Contrary to an impression which had prevailed quite generally, President Taft did not play a game of golf at the Country club. Captain Butt, his confidant, stated that the President would play no games anywhere on the tour with the exception of Augusta, Ga., and here on the trip the chief executive will indulge in his favorite sport.

When President Taft had gotten to the east side of the club house and had gazed over the gently rolling links, the call of the tee was heard and he decided to swat the ball just once to show that he was not entirely out of practice.

Stripping off his coat, he grasped the driver with the movement of a player who knew his business. Swinging twice to get perfect bearings, he brought the driver down with a forceful swing the third time, and sent the ball soaring over the links. A cheer from the crowd greeted the drive. "No more!" exclaimed the President, as he was assisted into his car. He had not exerted himself in making the drive, yet the ball reached the 210-yard mark.

Senator Smoot was the next to try his hand at the golf game. His first try was successful, and the ball stopped at the 100-yard mark. Governor Spry followed, with a drive to the eighty-yard line.

As Senator George Sutherland grasped the driver, one of his friends called out: "Senator, you are evidently a south-paw." "Yes," answered the senator, and with a forceful drive sent the ball to the 125-yard mark.

Earlier in the day, it is said, Senator Smoot and Congressman Howell each succeeded in driving the ball 200 yards.

A Perfect Drive.

Responding to a request of the President, R. V. Hoare, who has charge of the golf links, showed his skill at the game. With a perfect drive the ball soared straight as an arrow 250 yards beyond.

Perhaps the most unique reception ever tendered by the President was that
